Boeuf Gras (French): The fattened calf, the ancient symbol of the last meat eaten before the Lenten season. A live version was presented in the Rex parade until 1909. Now the papier mâché version continues as one of Carnival's most recognizable symbols.

King Cake: An oval, sugary pastry that contains a plastic hidden doll inside. The person who finds the doll is crowned 'king' and buys the next cake or throws the next party.

Krewe: The generic term for all Carnival organizations in New Orleans; first used by the Mistick Krewe of Comus in 1857, to give its club's name an Old English flavor.

Lundi Gras: French for Fat Monday. From 1874 to 1987, the day before Mardi Gras was celebrated by the arrival of Rex aboard a steamboat.

Mardi Gras: French for Fat Tuesday, the single day culmination of the Carnival season which annually begins January 6th.

Throws: Trinkets tossed from floats by costumed and masked krewe members.
